

Antônio Conceição

About 2 meters tall, Antônio Conceição is the tallest man in the village. He worked as a rice farmer and was in charge of water control. This was an important function, as controlling the water salinity was critical to ensure healthy rice growth.

Nowadays, he still grows rice while also working as a farmer. He inherited his father's land, which he still cultivates today.

