

Bia & António Russo

Bia Russo (the lady in the illustration that is also in the photographs above) worked at Herdade da Comporta. She was in charge of planting, weeding and harvesting rice, when the process was still manual.

António Russo (the gentleman in the photographs above) is Bia's husband and worked as a farmer at Herdade da Comporta before the 25th of April 1974. After that date, the Herdade was handed over to the state government and António received a plot of land where he still grows rice today.
